

Strength Deployment Inventory

AIM: To improve relationships within teams and organisations by identifying individual's strengths and how these relate to those of their colleagues.

FORMAT: SDI® (Strength Deployment Inventory®) is a paper-based psychometric in which participants are presented with a series of statements and asked to allocate points depending on how they feel about the statement. At the end of the series of statements, a personal score enables participants to plot their results on a coloured chart. Results include motivational values as well as preferences for dealing with conflict. Results for the whole team can be combined to show the range of strengths and values across the group, presented graphically and so easily understood by the whole team.

ACTIVITIES: After individual participants have completed their inventories, a facilitated discussion examines how to use these strengths effectively to improve working or personal relationships with others.

TIMINGS: Up to half a day or can be combined with other tasks and challenges for a full day programme.

LOCATION: Throughout the UK, Europe and worldwide, at client's own premises or at hotels or conference centres.

DRESS: Comfortable, casual clothing.

NOTES: The Strength Deployment Inventory® (SDI®) is protected by worldwide copyright and is registered to Personal Strengths Publishing Inc.
