

The 2012 Office Games

With excitement building across the world in anticipation of the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games, now is the time to think about how this enthusiasm can be harnessed to motivate and build your team during 2012.

Just like winning sports teams, the best work teams possess:

Clear vision

Shared goals

Complimentary strengths

Determination to succeed

Resilience

Willingness to adapt to change

The 2012 Office Games have been created to instil these qualities in your team whilst having fun and celebrating the build up to London's Olympic and Paralympic Games.

We've developed a choice of three team events that can be run at your office or chosen location:
