

BLINDFOLD ROPE SQUARE

Type of activity: Energiser
Participants: 12-50
Timing: 30-60
Key themes: Communication, Trust, Teamwork

Overview

A short exercise that forces small teams to communicate when they can't see one another or their progress. The challenge is to take a length of rope and lay it out on the ground to make a perfect square. Throughout the task all team members must wear blindfolds.

Pre-Work

Check that the space you intend to use is safe i.e flat, free of furniture and glass etc.
If the group size exceeds 12 consider running the activity with several teams at the same time.

Equipment and Layout

Provide a suitable length of rope 10 meters is ideal
Provide sufficient blind folds for all team members

Running the Activity

1. Give each participant a blindfold
2. Explain that this is a task that requires effective verbal communication
3. Position the participants in the area where the activity will take place
4. Ask them to lower their blind folds over their eyes and turn around until you say stop (allow them to rotate a sufficient amount so that they become a little disorientated)
5. Silently lay the coiled rope within reach of one of the participants
6. Explain that you have positioned the rope on the floor and that on your command they must locate the rope and work together to position the rope in the shape of a perfect square on the floor
7. During the exercise be prepared to intervene if a participant could hurt themselves

8. Allow the group to say when they have finished, if everyone is in agreement ask them to remove their blindfolds
9. Congratulate success or ask them what they might do differently if there is still room for improvement
10. If required give the group a second opportunity to complete the challenge

Additional notes

The most effective way measure the rope for this task is to fold the rope in half twice, creating four equal lengths.

Review and Conclusions

Ask how it felt to be asked to carry out the task blind?

Ask who were the leaders?

Ask how each participant's confidence felt at the beginning of the task?

Expand on the above to identify what led to rises and dips in confidence.

Follow-up

Frostbite is a more complex 'blind task' in which the role of leader rotates so that all participants experience being the leader.

For further suggestions on follow-up and other team activities, go to www.freshtracks.co.uk or email mail@freshtracks.co.uk